

IPC-6012 Qualification & Performance Specification for Rigid Printed Boards-CIT/CIS

The IPC-6012 course is a Certified Training Programme that covers and defines the Qualification & Performance Specification of Printed Boards.

The training incorporates content from both 6012 and 600 that gives companies and individuals all the tools they require to increase skills and performance.

NEW FOR 2015

- Scope
- Applicable Documents
- Requirements
 - Materials
 - Dielectric Materials
 - Polymer Coating
 - Annular Ring and Breakout
 - Requirements for Microsectioning
- Quality Assurance

This training is a theoretical course which is suitable for any person responsible for the quality and reliability of PCB's

On successful completion of the end exam the CIT student will receive a 6012 Trainer Certificate which is valid for two years and all training materials to conduct Certified IPC Specialist Training. CIS students on completion of the end exam will receive a CIS certification which is valid for two years. Course duration 3.5 days.